EPA continues to coordinate with LDEQ on flood response activities.

LDEQ requested EPA to assist on an investigation of an oil spill at Dennis Stewart Trucking where it was reported that an oil spill had taken place during the flooding incident and previously investigated by LDEQ staff.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->•<!--[endif]-->OSC Brescia/Baxter met with LDEQ this morning at the residents house, and did an outside perimeter assessment. The resident was not home, therefore, access into the house did not occur. After conducting a visual exterior assessment of the front of the property, OSC Brescia/Baxter could not find any recoverable oil on the property. There was no oil present in the low lying areas around the property, nor was there any vector of oil between the company in question and the residence. OSC Brescia/Smalley met with the owner of Dennis Stewart Trucking and did a site walk of his property. OSC Brescia/Baxter could not find any direct visual spill route from his property to the resident's property. The business owner was I asked if he would be willing to assist local residents with power washing, etc if resident's had concerns about oil coming onto their property and he indicated that he would be happy too assist. Only one resident to date has claimed that oil has come onto their property. There is no threat to waters of the US and there was no rationale for fingerprinting.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->•<!--[endif]-->OSC Brescia/Baxter and START Contractors continue to oversee response activities at Lard Oil Company.
